

To Touch the Divine (Monograph of the Council on Health Care)

A symposium on Jewish mysticism held in 1981 by the Lubavitch Foundation of Great Britain provided the framework for this series of talks. The resulting essays are unlike academic treatments of Jewish mysticism in which study is divorced from the life-giving tradition from which it springs. Addressed to a diverse audience, they deal with the difference between mysticism and mystical experience, between Jewish and other forms of mysticism, with meditation, cults, Kabbalah and concepts of the Tanya as expressed in contemporary idiom.
